ASSASSINATIONS IN HISTORY

The First Conspiracy

The assassination of Julius Caesar was the result of a conspiracy by many Roman senators who called themselves Liberators. Led by Gaius Cassius Longinus and Marcus Junius Brutus, they stabbed Julius Caesar to death in a location adjacent to the Theatre of Pompey on the Ides of March (March 15), 44 BC. Caesar was the dictator of the Roman Republic at the time, having recently been declared dictator perpetuo by the Senate.

A CAST OF CONSPIRATORS

HE WHO HAS BETRAYED ONCE,
WILL BETRAY AGAIN

MUSSOLINI AND HIS CAMP OF ENEMIES

Who were these powerful men who conspired against Italy's Prime Minister?
Where would their conspiracy take them and the Nation? What would happen to Benito Mussolini and the Government if their secret plans were successful?
Were other nations were involved in this conspiracy?

These and other questions were being asked in secret meeting rooms in Rome as their plans to overthrow Mussolini as the Prime Minister of Italy took on new plotters and new meaning. What certain men did not know was that other secret agendas were being formed without their knowledge.

Accepting the King's invitation to form a new Italian Government and to assume the Office of Prime Minister in 1922, Benito Mussolini was quick to demand and later to command that every Italian citizen must profess and honor an allegiance and loyalty to the Italian state and to the Kingdom of Italy personified in the personage of King Victor Emmanuel III of the Royal House of Savoy and to forgo and resign from other loyalties and allegiances which infringe upon and run counter to this commitment to Italy and its Institutions.

MANY ENEMIES - MUCH HONOR

This new message to the Italian People fell hard on the ears of the Internationalists, Free Masons, Bolsheviks, Trotskyites, Socialists, Marxists, Communists, Mafiosi, Zionists, and over zealous priests and a host of others not officially published and ultra-secret organizations around the world. Of these, Freemasonry was seen as being the number one enemy of Fascism since the earliest days in Milan when he formed a small group of World War I veterans into a quasi-political combative group of patriots immediately upon their return home from the carnage of trench warfare. This group of men included several Freemasons. As soon as Mussolini began to structure a national program of social and economic goals for the nation he ran into opposition from these very Masons at every turn. On November 26, 1926 his government enacted a bill which would prohibit Secret Societies in Italy and the police were later ordered to occupy all Masonic Lodges in Italy and the Colonies. Known Fascist Freemasons were asked for their resignation from their Masonic Lodges. Mussolini told the nation that was impossible to be loyal to Italy and also to be a loyal and active Free Mason. He was well informed on the history and rituals of this worldwide organization and simply stated these facts to the nation.

The birth and the development of a global hierarchy of regime changers did not escape Mussolini's scrutiny and warnings to the nation and to the world of their shadowy history and the growing global political exploits of the world of Internationalists.

Today, the body of Benito Amilcare Andrea Mussolini, Italy's Prime Minister from 1922 to 1943 lies buried in a stone tomb in the Mussolini Family mausoleum located in the San. Cassiano Cemetery, in Predappio in the foothills of the Apennine mountains, thirty-five miles east of Bologna. A marble bust of Mussolini is set on the top of his tomb and a large visitors book is made available for the thousands, of tourists that visit Predappio each year: a reported 75-100 thousand, visitors and loyalists who come annually to this small Italian town from every corner of the world. The book is filled and replaced with a new book monthly.

President John F. Kennedy

Inaugural Speech

Friday January 29, 1961

Vice President Johnson, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, President Truman, reverend clergy, fellow citizens, we observe today not a victory of party, but a celebration of freedom—symbolizing an end, as well as a beginning signifying renewal, as well as change. For I have sworn before you and Almighty God the same solemn oath our forebears prescribed nearly a century and three quarters ago.

The world is very different now. For man holds in his mortal hands the power to abolish all forms of human poverty and all forms of human life. And yet the same revolutionary beliefs for which our forebears fought are still at issue around the globe—the belief that the rights of man come not from the generosity of the state, but from the hand of God.

President Kennedy describes his Nuclear Nightmare

February 8, 1962

"Personally I am haunted by the feeling that by 1970, unless we are successful, there may be ten nuclear powers instead of four, and by 1975, 15 to 20.... I see the possibility in the 1970s of the President of the United States having to face a world in which 15 or 25 nations may have these weapons. I regard this as the greatest possible danger and hazard." His personal commitment is apparent in the way he dealt with the Israeli nuclear issue after he assumed office on January 20, 1961. Only ten days later, Secretary of State Dean Rusk gave the president a secret two-page memo on Israel's atomic activities, which noted the categorical assurance obtained from Ben-Gurion that Israel does not have plans for developing atomic weaponry.

THE ASSASSINATION OF SENATOR ROBERT F.KENNEDY

June 4, 1968

Popular Democratic Party presidential candidate Robert F. Kennedy waited all day for the election results to come in from the Democratic primary in California. At 11:30 p.m., Kennedy, his wife Ethel, and the rest of his entourage left the Royal Suite of the Ambassador Hotel and headed downstairs to the ballroom, where approximately 1,800 supporters waited for him to give his victory speech.

NOW ON TO CHICAGO

After giving his speech and ending with, "Now on to Chicago, and let's win there!" Kennedy turned and exited the ballroom through a side door that led to a kitchen pantry. Kennedy was using this pantry as a shortcut to reach the Colonial Room, where the press were waiting for him. As Kennedy travelled down this pantry corridor, which was filled with people trying to catch a glimpse of the potential future president, 24-year-old, Palestinian-born Saran Sirhan stepped up behind Robert Kennedy and opened fire with his pistol. While Sirhan was still firing, bodyguards and others tried to contain the gunman; however Sirhan managed to fire all eight bullets before being subdued. Shortly after midnight on June 5, 1968, presidential candidate Robert F. Kennedy was shot three times by Jordanian Sirhan Bissara Sirhan after giving a speech at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles, California.

ASSASSINATIONS

A short history

From the historical assassinations of Julius Caesar 44 B.C, Thomas Beckett 1170, Joan of Arc 1431, and Abraham Lincoln 1865, to our own troubled and eventful times, this devious method of eliminating political foes, whose very lives threaten the existing regime with its deep dark secrets, has been the favorite method of silencing those that threaten their positions of power and influence.

The lives of these three men, Benito Mussolini, John F. Kennedy, and Robert F. Kennedy were major obstacles to the plans of an international order of political dominators that have plans to introduce a new order of political, economic and social programs to the world, a policy of madness that will rob much of the world of its solid moral basis.

ALL THREE KNEW TOO MUCH
THEY HAD TO BE ELIMINATED

Their exemplary lives came to an end by a life shattering burst of bullets

The martyrdoms of Benito Mussolini 1945, John F. Kennedy, 1963, Robert F. Kennedy, 1968. They suffered a violent sudden death for the sake of their principles of personal beliefs, faith, and their political vocations, will they be remembered as such?

WHEN MEMORIES ARE SHORT ANYTHING CAN BE SAID

These few words encapsulates the essence of our times; living daily with a world of political, social, financial, and economic uncertainties and deceptions, perpetrated and disseminated, by today's world of the twin engines of Mass Propaganda and Mass Media.

YESTERDAY'S WAR ON TERRORISM HAS BECOME A WAR ON THE RELIGIONS' OF THE WORLD

The stark daily news media for millions of people around the world is the television coverage of the brutal military bombings raids that kill thousands of innocent Muslim men, women and children. They are dying daily as martyrs in today's "War on Terrorism."

In the post-war era of an unceasing proliferation of global, international, and world class organizations and corporations, the Roman Catholic Church is the one and the only true worldwide international organization today and as such is the only roadblock to the total and complete domination of the nations and the peoples of the world by agents of change working on behalf of the Internationalists of the world. It will have to be dealt with sooner or later in order for their programs and agendas for the world to be fully developed and operational.

POST WAR 1945

A NEW POLITICAL WORLD BEGAN

Our post-war modern Society is now populated by politicians who come and go seldom leaving a trace of accomplishment or performance. Their main ideologies leave no room for men and women who begin life as laborers, school teachers, journalists, street-fighters, bearers of new and unprecedented visions of humanity and its needs. Will modern society follow them to the very edge of a dangerous and fatal precipice or will some look to great men of the past for guidance and direction?

In the post-war era of an unceasing proliferation of global, international, and world class organizations and corporations the Roman Catholic Church is the one and the only true worldwide International Organization today and as such is the only roadblock to the total and complete domination of the nations and the peoples of the world by agents of change working on behalf of the Internationalists of the world. It will have to be dealt with sooner or later in order for their programs and agendas for the world to be fully developed. They began by establishing the North American Treaty Organization (NATO) in 1949.

THE TWIN WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION

MEDIA AND MONEY

Enough has been said and printed about the subject of Weapons of Mass Destruction in the past two years to last a lifetime. This four word phrase is now world famous and synonymous with the employment of nuclear and chemical instruments of warfare. The term itself has become a social and political weapon in and of its own self - a handy tool for speechwriters and press conferences. It is designed to intimidate and warn “rogue” nations of the world that are proving to be nations and regions of “concern” for the new International League of Power Nations formed after 1945. These weapons are now seen as the ultimate “Sword Of Damocles” in today’s political affairs of modern man. One slight “miscue” and the ultimate tragedy begins or ends as the case may be.

Marshall McLuhan, a Canadian born, 1911-1980, “oracle” and communications “sage” saw the highly dangerous toxic and explosive effects of this volatile mixture of mass media and high octane fuel of money on modern man.

Understanding Media: The Extensions of Man (1964)

This publication became McLuhan's most widely read and influential book, It explores the electronic age and its affect of both the individual and society in general. Meanwhile, here at home in North America, our broadcast airways and newspapers are filled with a torrent of lies and subterfuge carefully planted by a phalanx of selected apologists and hired hands and voices especially trained and strategically located for their evasive purposes. A throng of compliant commentators have targeted and invaded our daily media outlets. Their constant drumming of words and imagery is designed to drown out any dissenting voice and plunge the debate into a grinding harangue of augmentative discord.

THE LEADERS OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR, BUT ARE THESE BELIEFS WE HAVE CORRECT.
