When they had finished crucifying him a sign was placed above his head

INRI

“This is Jesus, the King of the Jews”

The Pharisees and the high priests said “You should not have put that sign we do not have a King.”

Pontius Pilate replied “What I have written I have written”

HISTORY

The Protocols of the Elders of Zion is a fraudulent, anti-Semitic text purporting to describe a Jewish plan for achieving global domination. It was first published in Russia in 1903, translated into multiple languages, and disseminated internationally in the early part of the twentieth century. Henry Ford funded printing of 500,000 copies which were distributed throughout the United States in the 1920s.

Adolf Hitler and the Nazis were major proponents of the text: It was studied, as if factual, in German classrooms after the Nazi Party came to power in 1933, despite having been exposed as fraudulent years before. In the opinion of historian Norman Cohn, the Protocols was Hitler's primary justification for initiating the Holocaust — his "warrant for genocide."

The Protocols purports to document the minutes of a late 19th-century meeting of Jewish leaders discussing their goal of global Jewish hegemony by subverting the morals of Gentiles, and by controlling the press and the world's economies. It is still widely available today, still presented, typically, as a genuine document, on the Internet and in print, in numerous languages.

THE PRAGUE CEMETERY

Umberto Eco

“The truth that directs the plot of “The Prague Cemetery” concerns a famous fiction created in the late 19th century, a fiction plagiarized from earlier fiction, including works by the French novelists Eugène Sue and Alexandre Dumas père. Despite such disreputable beginnings, this famous fiction went on to assume the imprimatur of a truth so galvanizing it played a role in some of the more momentous events of the last hundred years. Fiction and truth thus penetrate each other with a creative abandon suggestive of inspired pornography. What we have here is a situation ready-made for a novelist with a Borgesian fascination with reality’s perverse permeability by falsehoods. What we have here, in other words, is that famous fiction known as “The Protocols of the Elders of Zion.”

Everyone, famous or not, schooled or not, convinced or not, are certain enough to state that this collections of pages known as the Protocols of the Elders of Zion in a field of Russia in 1903 is the work of fraudulent author or authors and as such should not be given any credence or believe except to say that history in the years 1939-1945 appears to bear out the simple evidence that the Protocols of the Elders of Zion articles seem to find modern day reflection in the affairs of the world wide military conflict known as the Second World War, establishment of Israel and recent historical events gives support that the teachings of the Protocols are being followed religiously by someone other than the Judaic people of the World.

A NEW ORDER OF JEWISH HISTORY:

THE INTERNATIONAL ZIONIST

Theodor Herzl

A political movement advocating the reestablishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine, “the promised land of the Bible, with its capital Jerusalem, the City of Zion

Theodor (Binyamin Ze'ev) Herzl, the visionary of Zionism, was born in Budapest in 1860. He was educated in the spirit of the German Jewish Enlightenment of the period, learning to appreciate secular culture. In 1878 the family moved to Vienna, and in 1884 Herzl was awarded a doctorate of law from the University of Vienna. He became a writer, a playwright and a journalist. The Paris correspondent of the influential liberal Vienna newspaper Neue Freie Presse was none other than Theodor Herzl.

Herzl concluded that anti-Semitism was a stable and immutable factor in human society, which assimilation did not solve. He mulled over the idea of Jewish sovereignty, and, despite ridicule from Jewish leaders, published Der Judenstaat (The Jewish State, 1896). Herzl argued that the essence of the Jewish problem was not individual but national. He declared that the Jews could gain acceptance in the world only if they ceased being a national anomaly. The Jews are one people, he said, and their plight could be transformed into a positive force by the establishment of a Jewish state with the consent of the great powers. He saw the Jewish question as an international political question to be dealt with in the arena of international politics.

THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION

On 26th October, 1917, the All-Russian Congress of Soviets met and handed over power to the Soviet Council of People's Commissars. Vladimir Lenin was elected chairman and other appointments included Leon Trotsky (Foreign Affairs) Alexei Rykov (Internal Affairs), Anatoli Lunacharsky (Education), Alexandra Kollontai (Social Welfare), Felix Dzerzhinsky (Internal Affairs), Joseph Stalin (Nationalities), Peter Stuchka (Justice) and Vladimir Antonov-Ovseenko (War).

Zionist Leon Trotsky
of the Zionist USSR

With the notable exception of Lenin (Vladimir Ulyanov), most of the leading Communists who took control of Russia in 1917-20 were Jews. Leon Trotsky (Lev Bronstein) headed the Red Army and, for a time, was chief of Soviet foreign affairs. Yakov Sverdlov (Solomon) was both the Bolshevik party's executive secretary and -- as chairman of the Central Executive Committee -- head of the Soviet government. Grigori Zinoviev (Radomyslsky) headed the Communist International (Comintern), the central agency for spreading revolution in foreign countries. Other prominent Jews included press commissar Karl Radek (Sobelsohn), foreign affairs commissar Maxim Litvinov (Wallach), Lev Kamenev (Rosenfeld) and Moisei Uritsky.

David R. Francis, United States ambassador in Russia, warned in a January 1918 dispatch to Washington: "The Bolshevik leaders here, most of whom are Jews and 90 percent of whom are returned exiles, care little for Russia or any other country but are internationalists and they are trying to start a worldwide social revolution

"The Bolshevik Revolution," declared a leading American Jewish community paper in 1920, "was largely the product of Jewish thinking, Jewish discontent, Jewish effort to reconstruct."

As an expression of its radically anti-nationalist character, the fledgling Soviet government issued a decree a few months after taking power that made anti-Semitism a crime in Russia. The new Communist regime thus became the first in the world to severely punish all expressions of anti-Jewish sentiment. Soviet officials apparently regarded such measures as indispensable. Based on careful observation during a lengthy stay in Russia, American-Jewish scholar Frank Golder reported in 1925 that "because so many of the Soviet leaders are Jews anti-Semitism is gaining particularly in the army and among the old and new intelligentsia who are being crowded for positions by the sons of Israel."

In 1941 and 1942, under pressure from U.S. President F.D. Roosevelt and others in the Western Allied camp wanting to soothe any religious objections to the Western Alliance's military relations with the Soviet Russia, Pope Pius XII was led to believe that acceptance of the Western Alliance's association with the Soviet Union was the lesser of two evils facing Europe and the Western Christian world at that time. The Pope knew enough about the philosophical creeds of Marxism and National Socialism to make up his own mind, which he did. He looked to the future of Germany and saw two distinct social realities on the horizon: Soviet Communism and National Socialism under the leadership of Adolf Hitler and knew that only one would survive would take over the immediate political future of Germany the six years that Nuncio Eugenio Pacelli spent in Munich, from 1919 to 1925 he gathered information about this new personage on the scene, Karl Heinrich Marx, German philosopher economist, and social theorist

Karl; Marx

He soon learned that much of the gathered information was beginning to frighten him as a man and as a Papal Nuncio. By the time he, Pacelli, was posted to Berlin in 1925 he knew the life and thoughts of Karl Marx in fine detail. Pacelli visited the town where Marx was born and raised, Trier, and visited the University of Bonn where Marx was a student for a year. He had personal interviews with living relatives of Marx and of Jerry von Westphalen, Karl Marx's wife. During his stay in Berlin, Cardinal Pacelli read the records of Karl Marx's studies at the University of Berlin. He also visited the boarding house where Marx lived while in Berlin and went to Stralau where Marx met regularly with members of the Young Hegelians. Pacelli inspected police records which displayed records of anarchistic activity by the members of the -Klub of which Marx was a member.

Pacelli noticed that Karl Marx early in his youth had written a composition titled The Union of the Faithful with Christ, in which Marx exalted the social and spiritual Christian brotherly love amongst men and societies. This theme of the value and benefits of Christianity continued in other early writings. Then suddenly this all changed and Marx wrote poetry and hymns charged with anti-Christian themes which now praised the destructive power expressed in the Faustian phrase—Everything in existence is worth being destroyed.

From its' inception, many rabbis warned of the potential dangers of Zionism and openly declared that all Jews loyal to G-d should stay away from it like one would from fire. They made their opinions clear to their congregants and to the general public. Their message was that Zionism is a chauvinistic racist phenomenon which has absolutely naught to do with Judaism. They publicly expressed that Zionism would definitely be detrimental to the well being of Jews and Gentiles and that its effects on the Jewish religion would be nothing other than destructive. Further, it would taint the reputation of Jewry as a whole and would cause utter confusion in the Jewish and non-Jewish communities. Judaism is a religion. Judaism is not a race or a nationality. That was and still remains the consensus amongst the rabbis.

General Assembly of the United Nations Resolution 181

On November 29, 1947, the General Assembly of the United Nations adopted a Resolution for the establishment of an independent Jewish State in Palestine, and called upon the inhabitants of the country to take such steps as may be necessary on their part to put the plan into effect.

This recognition by the United Nations of the right of the Jewish people to establish their independent State may not be revoked. It is, moreover, the self-evident right of the Jewish people to be a nation, as all other nations, in its own sovereign State.

ACCORDINGLY, WE, the members of the National Council, representing the Jewish people in Palestine and the Zionist movement of the world, met together in solemn assembly today, the day of the termination of the British mandate for Palestine, by virtue of the natural and historic right of the Jewish and of the Resolution of the General Assembly of the United Nations, HEREBY PROCLAIM the establishment of the Jewish State in Palestine, to be called ISRAEL.

WE HEREBY DECLARE that as from the termination of the Mandate at midnight, this night of the 14th and 15th May, 1948, and until the setting up of the duly elected bodies of the State in accordance with a Constitution, to be drawn up by a Constituent Assembly not later than the first day of October, 1948, the present National Council shall act as the provisional administration, shall constitute the Provisional Government of the State of Israel

The Mysteries Of The Second World War

Why and how unknown millions (60 million +) of military and civilian citizens secretly and publicly met their death and why and how several of the world's great nations and their historic cities and ancient religious institutes were invaded with a agenda of military aerial and land assaults intent on a goal of virtual obliteration in 1939-1945

Since the establishment of Israel in 1948, when the war weary world was looking hopefully for a new period of peace and prosperity, the world has been transformed into an armed camp and now has the potential of becoming a worldwide police state. Every inch of ground and every mile of sky is now a high security zone, patrolled by combat prepared armed military and paramilitary personnel, and civil and private police forces. Technology has provided a post modern highly secret and elaborate billion dollar worldwide computer intelligence gathering program listens every hour of every day to everyone's everyday conversations and sees into the private correspondence between individuals reaching into every corner of the earth. The nation's most important public issues are now held to be "most secret" while the most private intimate personal issues are now "illuminated and broadcast" for the entire nation to see and read. Lethal security measures are now highly visible at public buildings, airports, border crossings, city centers, synagogues, embassies, government properties, even to the playing fields of the country. and nobody is now considered to be absolutely safe and secure. This regime of anti-terrorism security has over-powered the average citizen and has taken away what was formerly considered to be their public free world where innocent men and women with their families felt free to live, laugh, and struggle for happiness. That joy is now disappearing from view.

ISRAEL A HOMELAND FOR JEWS?

Israel is a small country, a very small country: In land size, in population and in its economy. In many ways it can be compared to a host of second and third class countries. Yet ,since its birth in 1948 it has taken on the international status of a nuclear nation, equipped with the world's finest and latest military know how and equipment. It has a national housing, medical and educational social infrastructure which rivals that of many more mature industrial nations having greater populations and much greater gross national production. Other than producing a few agricultural products for export along with a strong diamond cutting industry, Israel has little else to offer to the world although it now has some small developments in plastics, scientific equipment, computer programs, and a textile industry. It has very limited natural resources and its tourist business has been severely hurt by continuing acts of internal civil strife and civilian bombings and deaths in its major cities. How did it achieve the international status it now has.

To become a truly national homeland for the Jewish people of the world it will have to continue its series of land expansions and militarily occupy much of the surrounding areas of humanity.
